4. Organisation and planning

4.1 Curriculum Organisation

There are two Key Stages: Early Years Foundation Stage and Key Stage One.

We deliver the Curriculum throughout Early Years and Key Stage 1 using a topic-based approach, whilst retaining discrete subject teaching.

The Core subjects are taught daily excluding Science which is taught during one afternoon session. The Foundation subjects are taught weekly, which are blocked each half term, with the exception of History and Geography which is taught as part of a fortnightly rolling timetable. Subject content is linked to the termly theme.

EYFS
In Early Years, the subjects are grouped into Prime and Specific Areas of Learning:
Prime Areas of Learning	Specific Areas of Learning
Personal Social and Emotional Development	Literacy
Communication and Language	Mathematics
Physical Development	Understanding the World
	Expressive Arts and Design

KS1
In Key Stage 1, subjects are grouped into Core Subjects and Foundation Subjects
Core Subjects	Foundation Subjects
Reading	Religious Education	PSHE	Art
English	Physical Education	History	Design Technology
Science	Computing	Geography	Music
Mathematics

Our curriculum has been designed to take in to account the specific needs of our children and their community and to ensure that children can become upwardly socially mobile.

We focus on 'Who am I?' in the first term in which there is an emphasis on promoting healthy lifestyles, developing resilience and life in the local community. The children learn about inspirational people who have faced many different challenges. This inspires the children to 'be the best we can' and 'do the best we can'.

In the second term, the children learn about the wider world and environmental issues. They are encouraged and enabled to become courageous advocates who action change.

In the third term, children look at advances in modern technology which gives them aspirations for the future, instilling a growth mindset whereby if they persevere and work hard, they can be the best that they can be.

Holly Hill has a mastery approach to the curriculum which provides opportunities for our children to revisit learning and learning styles in order to consolidate and deepen their knowledge and skills. This allows learning to be committed to long term memory. We also use retrieval practice to recall key information to ensure that learning becomes embedded.

Progression is mapped across the Key Stages to ensure fluency and deepening of learning. This allows children to master and build upon skills over time in a variety of different contexts.

Our curriculum maps and timetables for EYFS and KS1 can be found on the school website.

In Key Stage One we follow National Curriculum guidelines; full details can be found at: https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/335133/PRIMARY_national_curriculum_220714.pdf.

For our Nursery and Reception we follow the EYFS Curriculum guidelines available at:

4.2 Planning and delivery of the curriculum

All curriculum subjects are given equal importance as we recognise Gods gifts in all that we can do and all that we could do if given the right opportunities.

We foster a love of learning and appreciation of the arts through experiences which many of our children are unlikely to have had thus broadening their aspirations, personal vision and knowledge of what is possible. Teachers plan opportunities that create a sense of awe and wonder, spark children's curiosity and inspire them to 'be the best they can.'

Teachers use formative assessment to inform their weekly planning for quality first teaching across the curriculum. Ongoing formative assessment enables the class teacher to identify misconceptions and identify children who are struggling or who need further challenge. Teachers use this information to adapt 'in the moment' teaching and weekly and medium-term planning so that lessons are planned effectively to meet all children's specific, individualised learning needs in all lessons across all subjects.

4.3 Assessment

Our aim is that every pupil is enabled to identify, use and develop their individual gifts and talents that God has given to them. Our approach to assessment is underpinned by our vision to promote 'Life in all its Fullness'. Assessment enables us to celebrate the successes of every individual child and plan highly effective teaching and learning, to allow every child to flourish and achieve the very best outcomes they can, so that they reach their full potential.

Our Assessment policy provides detailed guidance on our approaches to assessment.

4.4 Spiritual, Social, Moral and Cultural Development

Nurturing children's Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Development is at the heart of our school's work. It is central to the education of all pupils and permeates the whole curriculum and ethos of our school. It is reflected in the behaviours of individuals and in their interactions and also in the provision of teaching, resources and learning environments.

We undertake an annual audit of our SMSC provision. This identifies experiences and opportunities we have provided and the impact that these have had on our children's development. A copy of the SMSC audit is available on our website.

4.5 Sex and Relationships Education

This is taught by all staff using the My Happy Mind programme of Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) which encourages a child's self-esteem, self-awareness and their knowledge, understanding and respect of others. This area of the curriculum is taught through topics and is dealt with in a manner appropriate to a child's age and development as part of a wider teaching programme. A copy of the full Personal, Social and Health Education policy is available on our school website and from the school office on request.

4.6 British Values

In addition to our 12 Christian Values, children are taught about the British values of Democracy, Rule of Law, Tolerance of different cultures and religions, Individual Liberty and Mutual Respect. These are often taught alongside our Christian Values, for example, Tolerance and Respect. Others, such as Democracy, are taught as part of our wider Curriculum in real-life contexts, such as Spiritual Council Elections.

5. Inclusion

Teachers set high expectations for all pupils. They will use appropriate assessment to set ambitious targets and plan challenging work for all groups, including:

- More able pupils
- Pupils with low prior attainment
- Pupils from disadvantaged backgrounds
- Pupils with SEND

- Pupils with English as an additional language (EAL)

Teachers plan lessons so that pupils with SEND can study every National Curriculum subject, and ensure that there are no barriers to every pupil achieving the best that they can.

Teachers also take account of the needs of pupils whose first language is not English. Lessons will be planned so that teaching opportunities help pupils to develop their English, and support pupils to take part in all subjects.

Further information can be found in our statement of equality information and objectives, and in our SEND policy.

6. Monitoring arrangements

Governors monitor coverage of National Curriculum subjects and compliance with other statutory requirements through:

- Visits to school; meeting with leaders and visiting classrooms
- Looking at samples of books
- Monitoring and evaluating assessment data
- Monitoring the school's website

Senior Leaders monitor the way our curriculum is taught and the effectiveness of our curriculum throughout the school by:

- Lesson observations
- Learning Walks
- Drop-ins
- Book Looks
- Pupil Conferencing
- Planning Looks and Reviews of Learning Sequences
- Monitoring and evaluating assessment data

Senior Leaders also have responsibility for monitoring the way in which resources are stored and managed.

Cally Parsonage (Curriculum Lead) is responsible for ensuring that the policy is followed.

At every review, the policy will be shared with the full governing board.
